What is claimed is:

1. A mask for skin diving, comprising a skirt and two lenses laterally symmetrically mounted within said skirt; said skirt having two outer ends that are rearward inclined by a predetermined angle, and said lenses also having two outer ends that are rearward inclined by an angle corresponding to said skirt.

2. The mask for skin diving as claimed in claim 1, wherein said predetermined angle by which outer ends of said skirt and said lenses are rearward inclined is within the range from 5 to 10 degrees.